WHAT DOES THE APPLICATION DO?

This application is a time management application where you will be able to add module information and then view what the amount of self-study hours are for a specific module that you entered before as well as a page that will display the remaining self study hours after your work hours.

HOW TO USE THE APPLICATION

1. When the application first loads up, you will be presented with the application login page known as TMLoginPage1. On this page, you will see textboxes for your username and password for your account as well as two buttons that will either let you login by entering your username and password into the textboxes for an existing account or a register button that will let you register a new account if you do not have one.

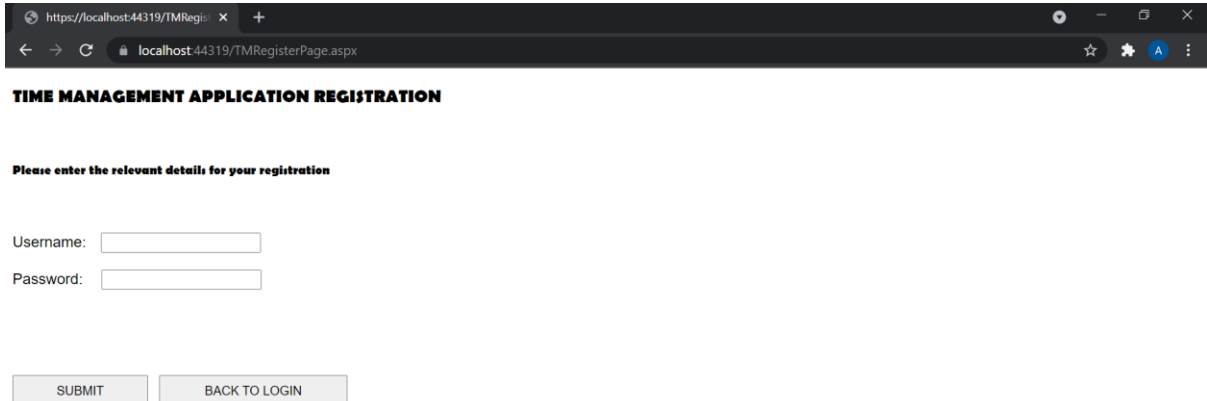

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying "https://localhost:44319/TMLogin" and "localhost:44319/TMLoginPage.aspx". The page content includes a heading "Welcome to the Time Management Application", followed by "Username:" and "Password:" labels, each with a corresponding text input field. Below these fields are two buttons: "LOGIN" and "REGISTER".

The page has a white background and a centered heading: Welcome to the Time Management Application. Below the heading, there are two input fields: "Username:" with the text "usermanual1" and "Password:" which is empty. A red error message, "Incorrect username or password!", is displayed below the password field. At the bottom, there are two buttons: "LOGIN" and "REGISTER".

7. Once you have clicked the "START" button on the main page, you will be directed to the first page of the application where you will be able to add a module for the semester. On this page (TMPage1), you will be presented with six textboxes that will require to record the module code, module name, number of credits for the module, class hours per week, number of weeks in the semester and the start date of the first week of the semester. For the start date, if you click the small calendar icon on the right of the start date textbox bar, you will be shown a calendar where you can click on the date that you want to record.
